

861

O THOU WHOSE POWER

$\text{♩} = 112$

1. O Thou whose pow'r o'er mov - ing worlds pre - sides,
2. 'Tis Thine a - lone to calm the troub - led breast

whose voice cre - a - ted and whose wis - dom guides:
with si - lent con - fi - dence and ho - ly rest.

on our dark world in pur - est bright - ness shine,
From Thee, O Lord, we spring, to Thee we tend,

and cheer the cloud - ed mind with light Di - vine.
Thou First and Last! Be - gin - ning Thou, and End!